Dear Community Health Leaders,

Thank you for your interest and support in maintaining a connected and trained health workforce in Nevada. Since 2016, HRSA funded community health workforce training in Nevada set us on the path to better quality and more efficient services. We invest about one thousand dollars in each CHW trained. As that funding comes to a close, we are accepting donations and small grants to maintain current research materials, overcome training barriers, hire exceptional instructors, provide mentorship, and keep this training free to incoming CHWs.

The CHW industry is maturing in Nevada as new staff funding sources become available through grants and Medicaid. We proudly support these changes and work with all the CHW and Peer training programs to raise up community leaders to fill these roles at your organization.

You invest in your employee recruitment, staff skills, and statewide competence when you donate to our training fund.

Donations over $10,000 receive special acknowledgment on our website and social media to attract quality candidates who will see your investment in your staff. Also, visit NvCHWA.org for class signups, and please reach out to schedule additional times for large student cohorts or to arrange a class for a specific service focus.
